SEEDS OF STYLE

Tiffany Rowe sprinkles poppy seeds, clusters of gold micro-beads and other uncommon materials into resin rings, pendants and cuffs. 'I like the idea of incorporating seeds because they are little time bombs,' says the designer of Geneva-based Crea-Tiff jewellery. 'Scientists have found seeds over 1,000 years old that are capable of germinating.' Although the former biologist's seeds are frozen in resin, they enable wearers to blossom.
